

in the news

I consider the article on p. 12 to be irresponsible and in conflict with both my personal morals and those of a majority of Free University members. The material which deals with acid, in what can easily be understood as an encouragement to use LSD gives bad and possible dangerous advice. I think it is hypocritical to advocate the use of LSD for young people and simultaneously offer ourselves as friends and counselors opening a Community Center where we will come together for work play, and guidance. Is this the guidance we're going to offer? For sure not me - and I feel not the Free U, either.

last summer

i don't know why
do you?
maybe the ladybugs on the cabbage
know
yes they know
why won't they tell?
will you?
sunshine is nice
but it has no answers
the moon knows
but it is so far away
i am only me
and i don't know

From The Mare's Nest

Move slowly, trace our rhythms
back to a midnight drumbeat,
Follow through the headlines
of recorded misconception:
We're all there, backed into an
Ordeal by Fire
Later to become a generation of prophets
With talisman: seed, stone, feather,
There's something in choosing a path
and maybe knowing sooner
That only a tribe finds Survival Mountain
With room to move and time to rest.
In those days, good women lost time with cowboys,
spent a lot of time alone,
and
Did time on beaded Pin-Strippers,
those Aquarius Sharkies
Who, on the Eve of Conception of Aquarius
held a business marathon
to decide who the investments were-
Even though by then on Steppes Stones
Was carved the story of nature's revolt,
Her subtleties offended,
And 77 generations of childless humans
were eliminated in the time it takes one microorganism
to exhale.
Those few remaining
resumed their daily communion with Earth
And told tales to racoon-eyed sons
of how the messenger did come that day,
And in his Saddlebags
was a plan
For 22 islands, a port, a river,
12 mountains, 7 valleys, and 3 plains.
And I can remember the days
when all we had
was a tamborine, a warm fire
and the sometimes bittersweet wine longing
for the New Day.

it's funny, you know
how the waves pass by the dolphins
they smile
it's beautiful when sun
passes thru painted glass
it wasn't nice when you passed
out the door

ELECTIONS! 6:30 P.M.
DECEMBER 21 - AT THE NEST

Sweet Smoke:

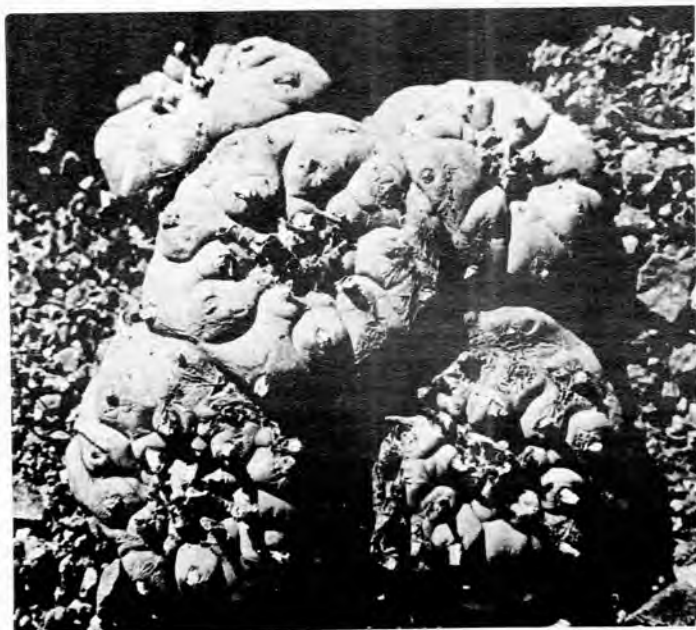

Constipation at Mexican border failing to stop flood of good weed into Bay Area;

*yellow wrapper michuachan bricks... (you can always tell it 'cause the seeds are black) mature and loaded with flowers - two joint weed and it smells sort of chocolatey ... going for $230. a brick, $12-$15 per lid.

*Wild tales of 40 oz. keys in the city going for $275. a shot. See it when you believe it.

*Titanic Texas blonde weed now in: looks like weird alfalfa, burns like hell and scorches your lungs out. Two joint weed, comparable to medium grade Mich..

*Real nice mexican weed now in Palo Alto. Very good for cold winter nights. Supply limited but more on the way, consult your local contact.

Electric Kool Aid etc, etc:

*Moon Acid, harvest orange color, rising in fullness at $2.50 to $3.00 per hit. Buy quantity, several local chemists now producing.

*Several varieties of synthetic and organic mescaline in the area. Range in appearance from horse capsules to small flat purple tabs. Very spiritual high.

*Women's Drugs (Amphetamine Annies Grab Bag) MDA around in quantity, clear liquid or gum crystals, jelly jelly, or cream colored caps. Beware of O.D.'s.

Cap'n Muscatel's Words to the Wise:

Special father-to-son-brother-to-brother hereditary good vibes hashish now on it's way to the states. Cannot be sold - is passed from hand to hand leaving a trail of joy.

DMT is around for plastic mind explosions. It's available, but cancels out brain cells. I'd say it ain't advisable. Oliver sez, "It's good for a laugh when yer mainlining acid!" He ought to know... one of the few cats around who can walk into yer brain and dust off the furniture without you ever knowin' it.

Rumor has it that Time Trophy is Rhino tranquilizer...

Special Notice: A crop of burn artists has taken up in the midpeninsula. Beware any offers of "bales" for sale. Recent rip-off got $4500. for a mess of grass-covered alfalfa. Generates severe bad feelings. Keep a weather eye.

New Revised Southern California Report direct from our San Diego Bureau: New and more ingenious means have recently been introduced to aid in the development of international grass pipelines. The Good Year Blimp has been commandeered and is sputtering north from Mazatlan, loaded to the gills.

The province of Michuachan is now almost totally burned out or harvested... all arriving weed for the next few shipments will be from Culiachan, another province with excellent growing conditions.

Watch for some sealed kilos coming north bearing a funky label with this smiling inscrutable Mexican holding a sprig of cannabis with an inscription reading "Solo el grande!" or "Only the Best!"

Almost none of the newly arrived kilos will have seeds. And for good reason: napalming and burn-outs by the Federales have caused a serious shortage of planting materials. Farmers are worried about fire from the sky. They're saving their seeds, why not save yours? Plant 'em everywhere: indoors and outdoors in secluded locations.

Folks don't use scales in San Diego - lids are judged by size, not weight. More for your money and you never pay more than 10 bucks a lid.

Final Note: Opium hash from this area will hit north in mid-November. Watch for it.

This magazine is an excellent vehicle for cleaning weed upon. Use it accordingly.

Stay High.

Special last minute Palo Alto Report: (Just under the wire folks!) Champagne acid tabs now in area, the cream of this year's crop... $2.50 a hit... One of the oldest and most respected dealers on the peninsula has just received a really juicy mix - folks are callin' it Kartto-Mex.

And our friends in Morocco have been exporting like tiny hashish-flavored hurricanes... good stuff in the area right now! Supply limited - get it hot!
