REVOLUTIONARY UNION

The Revolutionary Union is an all-class organization based on Marxism-Leninism the scientific summing up of the experiences of people throughout history. We know that people are the motivating force in history, that they can exert their will and change reality. The ruling clique of American Imperialists are the outright enemy of the peoples of the world--the oppressed people of the Third World and the internal colonies of black people and brown people within the American Empire. We believe that in order to beat the real enemy, you have to unite all real friends.

We come from and work in the factories, work places, the community, the street, and the campuses. In revolutionary collectives, we practice criticism and self-criticism and learn to serve and love the people. You can't hate the enemy unless you love the people. And if you love the people you have to translate theory into social practice. That means we have to fight to destroy this irrational and decadent system, and, in that fight, stand by our brothers and sisters. As we said in Red Papers #2, "No individual or organization can be considered revolutionary who at this time does not defend the Black Panther Party and learn how better to defend them. Nor can anyone claim to cherish democracy who does not defend the liberty of the Black Panther Party."

Both culture and the seeds of the new society come through the process of struggle. We are encouraged by the serve the people attitude of the Midpeninsula Free University and we will work with the MFU to help put concrete programs into being. The people have energy and power and creativity. The Imperialist clique only represent death. These forces of death are inwardly weak. The peoples of the world will be victorious in their just struggle.
